KIDNAPPING

Unknown Suspect

This man is being sought in connection with the abduction of Jennifer and Heather Loomis. He is described as being in his mid 40-50's, Caucasian, tall and pale with a visible face scar and darkened eye.

Victim-Jennifer Loomis and Heather Loomis

THE DETAILS SURROUNDING THE CRIME

Jennifer Loomis and her daughter Heather Loomis were driving down Church Road, Waldo, WI, USA. They would regularly travel along Church Road to Oostburg on weekends to see their extended family. On a Friday evening, May 8th, 1992, Jennifer and Heather Loomis would disappear. Some of their belongings and their car were later recovered at a nearby Oostburg-local junkyard.

A worker for the junkyard was interviewed and described seeing someone dump what he recognized as belonging to Jennifer Loomis. It had a deep dent in the hood of the car, indicating that they had crashed into something like a slim tree or lamppost. Friends of the Loomis ladies account for them describing what may have been a stalker. A co-worker of Jennifer recounts talking to her about a "creepy man" that her daughter had seen pop-up in different places; near her highschool, club activities, and home.
